RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE

In Affiliation with the

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

CURRICULUM—The fundamental branches (Anatomy, Physiology, Bacteriology, etc.) are taught in the Departments of Science at the Hull Biological Laboratories, University of Chicago. The courses of two (or three) clinical years are given in Rush Medical College and in the Presbyterian, the Cook County, the Children's Memorial, the Hospital for Destitute Crippled Children, and other Hospitals.

FIFTH YEAR—For students entering the Medical Course at the beginning of the summer quarter, 1914, or thereafter, a fifth year will be required for graduation. The work of this fifth year will consist of: (A) An internship in a hospital approved by the faculty and taken under conditions prescribed by the faculty. (B) Advanced work as a Fellow or Research Student in one of the departments of the College with the presentation of a thesis embodying original work.

SUMMER QUARTER—The college year is divided into four quarters, three of which constitute an annual session. The summer quarter, in the climate of Chicago, is advantageous for work.

ELECTIVE SYSTEM—A considerable freedom of choice of courses and instructors is open to the student. This is not designed, however, to encourage the student to fit himself for any special line of practice, but for its pedagogic advantage.

GRADUATE COURSES—Advanced and research courses are offered in all departments. Students by attending summer quarters and prolonging their residence at the University of Chicago in advanced work may secure the degree of A.M., S.M. or Ph.D. from the University.

PRIZE SCHOLARSHIP—Six prize scholarships—three in the first two years and three in the last two (clinical) years—are awarded to college graduates for theses embodying original research.

LIMITED CLASSES—By a recent vote of the faculty and trustees of Rush Medical College the number of students admitted to the courses next year is to be limited to 120 students in each of the junior and senior classes. No applications will be received after Sept. 1st, 1914. Students will be accepted in the order of receipt of application. It is the purpose of the faculty to restrict the students in the clinical courses to the number that can be adequately instructed by the modern pedagogic methods which have been instituted.

TUITION, $60.00 per quarter—no laboratory fees
